

FEEDING THE WORLD

A leading producer of raw materials used in food processing, Dumas has a buffet of advantages for businesses seeking reduced costs.

With its abundance of natural resources, Dumas is one of the nation's leading locations for grain, dairy, beef, and pork production. Companies like JBS, Hilmar, Pure Element and Life's Abundance have selected Dumas and the surrounding area as the optimal location to process their products and to deliver them to the world. Throughout Dumas' Moore County, sub-businesses support the booming industry. Companies specializing in such services as trucking, bottling, packaging and equipment sales and service keep the industry moving.

Processing the abundance of locally produced grains, dairy and meat products, JBS and Hilmar produce a variety of foods. The largest dairy in the world, Faria Dairy processes over 75,000 dairy cattle. The area is recognized as the leading grain sorghum, wheat and corn producers and Tyson, Seaboard and Pacific each have processing facilities in the area. The newest addition, Life's Abundance has located to Dumas for the access to raw materials as they grow and expand their pet food presence. Shipping costs are reduced with the expansive highway network and Rail Logistics Park located in Dumas, as well as our 265-acre Dumas Business Park.
